

I am writing this comment as a supporter and regular listener of K-Love. K-Love serves my wife and I, as residents of the local community of Omaha, by providing us with a positive and encouraging message of Christ's love on the radio. We know we can listen anytime and not have to worry that we will hear vulgar language or content. If K-Love were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, it would have an adverse effect on the local community. There would only be one other radio station on the airwaves in Omaha that shares the uplifting Christian music that we have come to cherish. In conclusion, I believe the service provided by K-Love truly is in the public interest because it is one of the few local radio stations that delivers a message of hope that our community so desperately needs.
